

2023

2023

The Gerry Taillieu Memorial Award for Excellence in Rangeland Management honours the memory of an exemplary rancher and rangeland steward.

The Gerry Taillieu Excellence in Rangeland Management Award will be given to a land owner or manager in Alberta or Montana who inspires environmental stewardship commitment on working landscapes, while demonstrating the art and science of range management.

NOMINATION FORM

Name: _____

Address, phone, email: _____

Type and location of agricultural operation: _____

Nominated by (Name & Email or Phone): _____

Awardees will have demonstrated, either through their actions, directives, or influence direct benefit in terms of rangeland sustainability. Explain how the nominee has demonstrated and made significant contributions to the sustainability of rangelands by answering the following:

1. Provide examples of the principles of range management (rest, distribution, timing, and stocking rate) being put into practice on working agricultural lands.

2. Explain local community involvement and leadership relating to rangeland sustainability.

3. Describe social responsibility and rangeland stewardship advocacy demonstrated (past or present).

4. Comment on intrinsic value of clean water for livestock and how this is applied in current rangeland management.

5. Provide examples of practicality, due diligence and sensible land management.

Optional: Letter of support or recommendation.

Applications to be sent to srm.ims11@gmail.com

Deadline for applications; September 15, 2023

